I. The Components: A Detailed Breakdown

The Army JROTC Dress Blues uniform comprises several important components, each with specific requirements regarding fit, positioning, and shape. Ignoring to meet these guidelines can result in disciplinary action.

- The Coat: The main component, the Dress Blues coat is typically a dark blue, unbrested jacket. Verify it fits correctly, neither too snug nor too flabby. Buttons should be securely fastened, and any tear should be fixed immediately. Incorrect buttoning is a common blunder.
- The Trousers: The trousers, also dark blue, should be sharply pressed and correctly pleated. The size should be such that they land slightly over the shoe. Unnecessarily long or short trousers are unsuitable. The girdle should be correctly fastened, and the fastener should be noticeable.
- The Shirt: A long-sleeved white shirt forms the base layer. It should be completely placed into the trousers, with no gaps apparent. The shirt collar should be tidy and clean.
- The Tie: A dark blue tie is sported with the Dress Blues. It should be appropriately knotted, neat, and aligned. A carelessly tied tie lessens the entire look.
- The Shoes: Polished midnight shoes are essential. They should be pristine and free of scratches. Soiled shoes are unacceptable.
- The Accessories: Other components incorporate the JROTC name tape, rank insignia (to be worn on the sleeves and collar), and any pertinent medals or ribbons earned. Precise placement of these badges is critical.

II. Maintenance and Care: Keeping Your Uniform in Top Condition

The endurance of the Dress Blues relies on correct care and maintenance. Frequent cleaning, smoothing, and review are essential. Neglecting these aspects can lead to hasty wear. Stain cleaning is recommended for insignificant stains. For greater significant washing, consult a experienced wash cleaner knowledgeable with the sensitive nature of the cloth.

Before any formal gathering, a meticulous self-inspection is suggested. Check every component for neatness, correct location, and general state.
